Barcelona (Spain), December 19, 2018. WA4STEAM, an association of women business angels committed to invest and support STEAM related start-ups led by women, and Capital Cell, signed a collaboration agreement.

Capital Cell is a leading European online investment platform specialized in biotech and healthcare.

WA4STEAM and Capital Cell, share the same approach to investment selection and passion for finding exciting investment opportunities with serious social impact.

Capital Cell was founded in 2015 by Daniel Oliver, with offices in Cambridge, UK, and Barcelona, Spain. It counts with over 3,500 registered investors, has successfully closed 27 financing rounds to date and has helped to raise more than 15M€.

WA4STEAM was created in September 2018, with the aim to provide seed capital and support to STEAM startups led by women, “The collaboration agreement with Capital Cell, biotech investment platform of reference in Europe, will contribute to that objective” according to Salome de Cambra, WA4STEAM co-founder, who led the agreement talks with Capital Cell.

About WA4STEAM

WA4STEAM is a non-for-profit association of women business angels that provide seed capital and support to STEAM start-ups led by women.

WA4STEAM aspires to be a reference within the start-up ecosystem by helping women-led STEAM projects to become profitable enterprises. It aims to be a cohesive body of knowledge for both, women angels (WA) and women entrepreneurs (WE) as well as a community of mentoring and networking.

¹ STEAM stands for Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts & Architecture and Mathematics

The broad skill set of its members, its dual approach to investing, driven by economic profitability and social impact, together with its strong values make WA4STEAM a unique organization that:

- Promotes women's entrepreneurship initiatives in STEAM.
- Fosters women's talent and innovation in STEAM.
- Influences society towards gender equality in STEAM.
- Encourages women's greater participation in financing STEAM projects.
- Creates a collaborative environment that allows women entrepreneurs to find the tools and the support to develop their business projects.
- Promotes networking between professionals, entrepreneurs and other organizations.
